

Wagner Gonzalez.

Good morning, My name is Wagner I go to a Manchester high school. I come from Dominican Republic and I am 14 years old, I've been in my country all my life but me and my brother are going to be 1 year in this country. I have a beautiful family in San Cristobal, two sisters who are waiting for me and my brother, but much more for my mother and my stepfather.

I have been in a school for 11 years called: Centro soy. then I went to another school and spent 2 years there. When the year passed I arrived in this country in November, my first school in this country Middle school, I felt nervous and worried I thought that the year was not going to pass and that I could not make it but thank God I was able to spend the year and be proud I miss my parents a lot but I have to keep studying and be able to achieve a path.

I am planning my future but I still cannot complete it, it is for that and other reasons why I want to continue here and continue studying, I want to be able to achieve something and if it had not been for my parents I would not have come here and I would never have written, I am but I'm quite happy That they have given me that opportunity, I can finally take a new door.

My parents have always told me not to stop for anything, that if I want to achieve something that will continue standing. Once my best friend named Diego told me that losing is not when you lose but rather when you give up, something that I am tired of doing and I haven't even realized it until now. It is a pleasure to have been in this country, in this school, to meet some new friends and my teachers, but it is more than a pleasure to have told this and the next story of my life with you. I hope to see it or see it in person and shake my hand against yours.

Attentively,
Wagner
